

Geekyness Technical Assessment for Frontend Developer & Designer Intern

Objective:

To gauge your technical proficiency, design sensibilities, and problem-solving abilities.

Design Challenge:

1. Scenario: Create a UI mockup for an e-commerce website's product page, with emphasis on user-friendly design, which includes features like search, filters, product details, reviews, and related product suggestions.

Coding Challenge:

2. Objective: Convert your UI mockup from the design challenge into a responsive webpage.
3. Specifications:
 - Use any frontend libraries you're comfortable with. React will be considered favorable.
 - The page should be responsive, ensuring it displays correctly on desktop, tablet, and mobile views.
 - Implement search and filter functionality. You can use mock data or dummy placeholders for this purpose.

Submission Guidelines:

1. Design Challenge:
 - Export your design mockup into a shareable format (e.g., PDF, PNG).
 - If using Figma, Adobe XD, or other cloud-based design tools, provide a link to the design file, ensuring permissions are set to "View Only."
2. Coding Challenge:
 - Provide a link to the hosted version of your code on platforms like CodePen, JSFiddle, or GitHub Pages.
 - Push the source code to a GitHub repository and share the repository link.

3. Documentation:

- Include a brief document outlining your design and development decisions, challenges faced, and solutions implemented. This can be a simple README in your GitHub repository.

4. Submission Method:

Send all relevant links and files to "hiring@geekyness.com" with the mail subject as “Geekyness Technical Assessment: Frontend Developer & Designer Intern”

Follow-Up:

Upon successful submission and review, selected candidates will be contacted for a follow-up video call. This is your opportunity to present and explain your work, addressing the design choices made, coding decisions, and any challenges encountered.

Deadline:

The completed assessment needs to be submitted by "10th September 2023, 11:59 PM (IST)"
